DR. BLAZER CAN'T REMEMBER CRIME

Defendant In Strange Case
Formerly Was Resident Of Salineville.

Littleton, Colo., Nov. 6.—The battle of psychologists and psychiatrists that is expected to determine the innocence or guilt of Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, 60-year-old "country doctor" on trial in district court here for the chloroform slaying of his 32-year-old imbecile daughter, Hazel Ingrid Blazer, will get under way today.

Dr. Blazer formerly resided in Salineville, Columbiana county, Ohio. Selection of the jury to try the "old fashioned" physician was expected to be completed soon after court convened, and Joel Stone, prosecuting attorney, will immediately launch his opening statement. The youthful, aggressive prosecutor will declare to the jury that the defendant will be proven to have been of sound mind when the so-called "murder for love" occurred in the Blazer bungalow in Englewood last February and, while he will not demand the death penalty for the accused slayer, he will seek a verdict of first degree murder with a life imprisonment sentence.

Temporary Insanity
The state, according to Stone, will declare that the "soulless girl," who was a mis-shapen, helpless invalid for 22 years, was a human being in all that the phrase implies; that she did have a soul, and not only entitled to live until called to the great beyond by some power other than human, but that she enjoyed life despite her imbecile condition.

In further outlining today his theory of temporary insanity in the form of "psychical automatism," that will be the foundation of the defense, Lewis Mowry, chief counsel for Dr. Blazer, declared the defendant's condition was the direct result of his 32 years of love and devotion to his stricken daughter.

New York Scene Of
Most Novel Holdup

New York, Nov. 6.—In one of the most novel holdups ever staged in America, three of a gang of five armed bandits forced four men to lie on top of each other on the floor of the bandits' speeking limousine, where the bandits rested their feet on their victims' backs while the other two members of the bandit gang drove away with a truck load of silk valued at $30,000.

PARENTS AND FOUR CHILDREN BURNED
TO DEATH IN HOME

Ballston Spa, N. Y., Nov. 6.—A man and his wife and four of their five children were burned to death here today when fire destroyed the home of George Kemp. The dead are:

George Kemp, 40.
Mrs. Mary Kemp, 38.
Viola Allen, 14.
Myrtle Allen, 9.
Carol Allen, 10.
Marcia Kemp, 11.

The Allen children are Mrs. Kemp's by a previous marriage.

The only person who was in the house when the fire started and who escaped death was Beatrice Kemp, 16, but she was badly burned and may die.

The fire is believed to have started from an overheated stove.

The Kemp home was located on Church st. just outside the village line in the Schneckady-Ballston road. It was near a small garage operated by Kemp.

The girl who escaped jumped through a window and ran to the home of a neighbor. Her clothing was in flames and but for the quick work of Walter Bentley, a neighbor, she would have been burned to death.

Five of the dead, their bodies burned beyond recognition, were found in one room. From the position of the bodies, Dr. Robert C. Castree, coroner, said he believed Kemp had been trying to lead his wife and children safely from the house when they were all overcome.

Firemen found the wooden bungalow a roaring furnace when they arrived. They strung a line of hose more than a quarter of a mile from the village limits to play water on the structure.

The body of one of the children was found in a separate room. It was burned beyond recognition.

SMALL TAXPAYERS' PAYMENTS CUT BY REPUBLICAN BILL

Million Taxpayers Will Be Removed From Rolls
Under Proposal.

INCOMES BELOW
$3,500 ARE EXEMPT

Rich And Poor Will Share Same Percentage Of Reduction.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A tax reduction bill that will be politically "bomb proof" was predicted today by Republican leaders in congress as a result of the agreements reached in the ways and means committee, which is writing the bill behind closed doors.

The main features of the new bill—a reduction of surtaxes from 40 percent, exemption of all incomes below the $3,500 class, and a slight reduction in the normal rates on small incomes—have been ratified.

The net effect of these, and other changes of lesser importance, is to remove 1,000,000 tax payers from the rolls at one swoop, and reduce the government's revenue by approximately $200,000,000 annually.

The treasury disapproves of the removal of so many small tax payers from the rolls, but the Republicans in congress, having to deal with the Democrats, decided upon it as a compromise.

Steal Democrats Thunder
The Democrats, under the leadership of Rep. Garner (D) of Texas, have been writing their own bill, proposing complete exemption of all incomes up to the $5,000 class. This would have removed some 3,000,000 taxpayers from the rolls.

Republican leaders were fearful that unless they took steps to meet the Democratic attitude, the coalition of Democrats and Progressive-Republicans would operate to kill the Republican bill, as they did the original Mellon plan two years ago.

Now, by the $3,500 exemption, retention of the 25 percent reduction allowed "earned income," and the reduction of normal rates from 2, 4 and 6 percent to 1 1/2, 3 and 5 percent, they feel they have stolen most of the Democratic thunder before the tax issue ever reaches the floors of congress.

As now framed, the new tax bill will allow approximately the same percentage of reduction to the "little fellow" as the "big fellow."

Table of New Rates
While the rich man will have his tax cut in half through the dropping of the surtax rate from 40 percent to 20 percent, the man below the $10,000 class will obtain virtually the same reduction.

The following table shows the effect of the new rates on incomes up to $10,000:

Net Income	Present Tax	New Tax
$2,000	$ 7.50	$ 0.00
3,000	10.00	0.00
4,000	22.50	5.63
5,000	37.50	16.87
6,000	57.50	28.12
7,000	87.50	39.37
8,000	127.50	50.62
9,000	167.50	61.87
10,000	207.50	73.12

To welcome their new pastor, Rev. E. S. Collier and his family, the M. E. church gave an informal reception Thursday evening in the church parlor, which interested about 175 people, including ministers of other churches of the city.

A short program was a feature of this enjoyable occasion, with W. U. Miller, president of the board, presiding. Dr. P. H. Gordon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and president of the Ministerial association, gave the invocation. The Sunday school orchestra furnished music.

Other numbers were: Talk, Rev. Collier; reading, Mrs. Frank Griffin; vocal duet, Mrs. A. B. Hobson and Mrs. Mary Mellinger Albright; vocal solo, Mrs. Albright.

Mrs. Mary Pine, president of the Woman's organization of the church presented Mrs. Collier a beautiful basket of chrysanthemums, in behalf of the organization.

LEGION CAMPAIGN
TEAMS ARE NAMED
TO RAISE $30,000

Dr. McMaster Will Speak
At Campaign Rally Here
Sunday Afternoon.

American Legion members, at a meeting Thursday night, completed plans for conducting their campaign next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to raise $30,000 for a legion home on McKinley ave. Grant Whittaker, professional campaign manager, will be in charge.

It was announced at this time that Dr. W. H. McMaster, president of Mt. Union college, will speak at the rally to be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the State theatre. Paul Heckert, postmaster, will officiate with his bugle on all three days of the drive.

Plans are being made for the Armistice day celebration and all civic organizations are invited to participate in this parade. Armistice day services are to be delivered in some Salem churches.

With the money the Legion is hoping to raise through the campaign which will end on Nov. 11, the Scott property on McKinley ave. will be purchased, remodeled and outfitted for a new home. Part of the funds, it is understood may also be devoted to the purchasing of a lot in Grandview.

ELKS TO DONATE TO LEGION HOME

Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks will contribute $250 to Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion for the fund it is raising to purchase a home on McKinley ave.

This donation was announced after the regular meeting of the lodge Thursday evening at home.

A claim ante is planned for next Thursday evening and the lodge will give a ladies' night party, probably on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 26.

The members will participate in the Armistice day parade next Wednesday and they are asked to assemble at the home at 1 o'clock on that date.

Her first public singing was in the choir of the Methodist church at Delmar. During the next 11 years she sang and played the violin and pipe organ in church at Dallas and Little Rock.

Six years ago she ran away from her home in Little Rock to appear in a traveling musical show. She traveled all the way to San Francisco with the show.

Eventually she came to New York and two years ago became a star singer with Zeigfeld's "Follies."

She smilingly asserted today that she thought the title of "ex-Follies Girl" was no great asset. "It immediately gives the impression," she said, "that you have good looks and pretty legs, but that you have no brains and can't sing."

Miss Lewis' singular in the "Follies," however, attracted much attention. The Chicago Opera company among others, sought to sign her to a contract.

Lee Long Says Wife Drinks Lysol Because He Came Home Intoxicated; Dentinger Then Shoots Long During Quarrel.

On man was shot in the right forearm, another lodged in city jail and a girl removed to Central Clinic hospital in a critical condition from Lysol poisoning as a result of a rather unusual triangle situation Thursday night which may end fatally for the girl.

Leland Long, 19, and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Long, 16, living at 189 Pershing, were the victims and George Dentinger, also of that address, is the prisoner.

Long was released from the hospital this morning after the wound, which was superficial, had been dressed.

Long is still confined to her bed and hospital attaches stated that while her condition was serious she could probably recover.

Dentinger is in jail on a charge of shooting with intent to wound.

Family Quarrel
According to the story members of the family told police this morning Long and Dentinger have not been on friendly terms for some time. Long and his wife shared the Dentinger home since their marriage about a year ago. Dentinger is Mrs. Long's step father.

The two men, it was stated, have had many arguments in the past few months and Long declared this morning that Dentinger was attempting to separate him from his wife.

Long came home last evening in an intoxicated condition, he told newspapermen, and his wife, in an effort to frighten him into leaving intoxicated alone, swallowed half a tablet of a Lysol compound when she observed his condition.

After she had been rushed to the hospital in a physicians car, Long and Dentinger became involved in another argument that ended with the latter securing a .38 calibre revolver and firing one shot which took effect in Long's forearm.

Man Is Arrested
Fire Captain George Lewis and Patrolman Wallace Kirkbride, when informed of the shooting by neighbors, hurried to the home and after sending Long to the hospital, set out in search of Dentinger. He was found in a building belonging to the Pittsburg foundry. Mrs. Dentinger had disarmed her husband immediately after the shooting.

Dentinger was at once removed to the city jail and is being held there pending the results of his hearing which is expected to occur some time today. The present charge which is lodged against him is a tentative one and may be changed later, Mayor Russell indicated.

Conviction of the count of shooting with intent to wound would result in the man being bound over to the grand jury.

Mrs. Dentinger informed the mayor this morning that her husband was subject to violent seizures of temper and had threatened to kill her at various times.

What's Traffic When She Has Date?

Cleveland, Nov. 6.—Time and tide on no man wait, neither does a pretty girl with a "date" wait on traffic signals, assistant traffic commissioner, Martin Block, learned today when he questioned a young lady summoned for "jay walking" on busy Euclid ave.

Taken to Central police station, for walking against the traffic signal, she explained that she had an appointment.

"I'm getting later all the time," she added somewhat impatiently. Block lectured her on the perils of disregarding traffic signals, then sent her to keep the "date."

Cahoon, Mich., Nov. 6.—Coast guards here today are battling a fierce gale in an effort to reach the disabled steamer, Hamonic, adrift with a crew of 49 men about 25 miles off Caribou island.

Radio dispatches from the vessel broke off in the middle, leading to the belief that she is a serious straits. Another steamer, the William Roberts, is reported adrift off Alpena, in Lake Huron.

Dispatches from other lake vessels report the steamers, S. A. Tomlinson and Robert J. Paisley standing by the crippled vessel unable to approach because of the heavy seas. They are waiting for the crew from the Hamonic.

The position of the Hamonic, as nearly as could be ascertained from the interrupted distress signals, was about 25 miles off Caribou island, north of Grand Marais.

So Crime Ends

THE life of George W. "Dutch" Anderson and his career of crime were brought to simultaneous end with a bullet fired from his own gun by an officer of the law. It was a better death than this master criminal had deserved but it was inevitable that his life should end in some ignominious manner. That is the way of all criminals. It was so written in the beginning and so it has been throughout all time. Sooner or later the wrongdoer, smart and agile as he may be, and proficient as he may have become through experience, finds himself tripped up. His luck, as he has come to look on it, deserts him, and the penalty for crime is demanded of him. They all pay sooner or later. Anderson, by all the rules of the game, should again have made good his escape after he had shot and fatally wounded the police officer who arrested him, but the fate, which is against criminals, gave the dying officer strength to wrest away Anderson's gun and administer retributive justice.

It is cause for great regret that the Muskegon officer had to die at Anderson's hands. Of course in making the arrest of a suspicious character he had no idea he had taken the notorious killer. But no officer should take the chances he did; his presumption always should be that his man is armed, that if armed he will shoot if given opportunity, and precaution should be taken by search for arms on the spot. That, however, is aside from the great lesson in this case which is that crime today as certainly brings its just repayment as it did when came the admonition that the "Wages of sin is death."

When there's consideration of crime and criminals like Anderson it is a waste of time to think of the origin of life or the hereafter. The Andersons are and as long as they are they will take their chances on what is to come; what they need is to be shown that they cannot escape the penalties of the law. Mostly they do know it, and hardened as they may be, perhaps without sense of ordinary fear, they live a life of terror. No rest. No sleep. No trust in any man. The man who committed crime and sees the law lives like the hunted wild beast and with more reason because he knows why he is hunted; and with a price upon his head he must live alone because he never knows when a comrade may yield to temptation of prize money and immunity from his own crime.

Amendments Defeated

AS WAS generally expected, the three proposed amendments to the state constitution were all defeated Tuesday. The tax classification amendment, which aroused the most interest and the most opposition, has now been beaten in one form or another 11 times. The conviction is very strong, especially in the rural districts, that it would mean heavier taxes on farms and homes, though in other states where the classification policy has been tried thoroughly it has had precisely the opposite effect. The policy probably will be tried sometime in Ohio, unless our whole tax system is revolutionized before the people are ready for this lesser change.

In the meantime the great bulk of the so-called intangibles will escape taxation, as usual. In the first place, it is unfortunately the disposition of human nature, by no means confined to bloated bondholders, to dodge its taxes when it can. In the second place, many persons honestly regard the taxation of intangibles under the uniform rule as confiscatory and proceed on Dr. Hadley's theory that an unjust law may justly be ignored. In the third place, as past history plainly indicates, no legislature in the face of the powerful organized opposition which exists will endeavor seriously to force the return of intangibles for taxation under the uniform rule. Classification is often presented as a moral policy, on the theory that all the tax dodgers would undergo a moral regeneration if they were given a low rate. We have no great faith in that idea but regard it as an eminently practical policy, affording an opportunity to collect more tax revenues from intangible property and thus making possible a lightening of the burden on farms, homes and chattels.

Uncle Sam's Prisons

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, Nov. 5.—In spite of the increasing maze of government activities that have sprung up since the war, Uncle Sam is spending more money and energy every year in the work of rehabilitating the lawless members of society.

Due to the increased number of federal statutes passed in the last few years, the federal prisons are becoming an ever greater factor in the enforcement of the law and the administration of justice in the United States.

Previous to the last decade the total number of federal prisoners was much less than at present and a greater proportion of the law breakers, having violated various state laws, were confined in the state institutions. The marked tendency of the national government in recent years to pass more laws regulating the private lives of citizens, such as the Volstead and Mann acts, instead of leaving this function almost entirely to the states, as was formerly the case, has been responsible for the increase of federal prisoners. The prohibition statute alone, officials say, has been responsible for swelling the ranks of these convicts by several thousands.

On June 30 of this year the total number of federal prisoners was 8,515. This was $51 more than the number for the previous year.

The increasing number of convicts in the government's charge has brought about a need for a corresponding extension of the nation's prison facilities, and also for a general improvement in the equipment and methods in the present institutions.

If the plans now being worked out are carried into effect, the United States will have probably the most extensive and scientific prison system in the world, according to the experts of the Department of Justice.

At the present time the country has three federal prisons located at Atlanta, Ga., Leavenworth, Kas., and McNeil Island, Washington.

Prisons Are Inadequate
During the fiscal year which ended last June 30, it cost the government $1,748,094.85 to maintain and operate these three institutions. This was an increase of $269,000 over the expenditures of the federal prisons for the previous fiscal year.

Yet in spite of the greater expenditures for operating these institutions, federal prison officials claim that the three penitentiaries are wholly inadequate for housing the steady stream of convicts being turned over daily by the courts. Last spring the crowded conditions of the prisons, particularly at Atlanta, became so acute that the superintendent of prisons appealed to the adjacent state institutions to take over some of the federal prisoners. By "boarding out" groups of prisoners in this fashion, it was possible to find quarters for all the federal charges.

In order to relieve the situation the superintendent has recommended to the attorney general that steps be taken to procure new corrective institutions for the government.

Last spring the site was chosen and work begun on the new penitentiary for women now under construction at Alderson, W. Va. This institution is intended to be a model corrective institution and will be modern in every respect.

Q. Is honey less fattening than sugar? J. R. B.

A. Dr. Harvey Wiley says that honey and sugar in equivalent amounts have the same fattening properties. As honey contains about 20 per cent of water, or a little more, it would require 20 per cent more honey to have the same fattening properties as an equivalent amount of sugar. Honey is more wholesome than sugar because it has vitamins and mineral substance furnished by the bee, while refined sugar has neither minerals nor vitamins. It is more wholesome to eat honey than it is to eat an equivalent amount of sugar, but both are fattening.

Q. In what form is platinum found? W. A. B.

A. The Geological Survey says that most platinum is found native in placer deposits and in black sand. Some is found in ores in some of the mines in the yellow pine district of Nevada, also in the Rambler mine in Wyoming. As much as more than 60 per cent of the platinum content is taken from the ore.

REFUNDS IN OHIO GAS TAX EXCEED $37,900 IS REPORT

Columbus, Nov. 6. — State Auditor Tracey today announced that reimbursements paid out of the state gasoline excise fund total $37,960.11, in making these payments 134 warrants were issued on the state treasury.

These warrants, it was stated, are the first reimbursements, mailed to individuals who bought gasoline, paying two cents per gallon tax, under the Green law which became effective last April 1, but who used the gasoline for purposes other than for operating motor vehicles.

"This petit jury," the defense attorney amplified, "came in attacks of numbness in the facial muscles and tongue, created arterio sclerosis, and resulted in loss of memory during periods of which the body acted without volition of the mind or will. During one of these spells that continued for 48 hours, the defense will contend, Dr. Blazer took the life of his daughter and made three attempts to destroy himself."

Doctor Dismissed
But the shrewd faced, small eyed defendant is not in harmony with the declaration of his attorney. "I do not agree with your 'fancied' ideas of scientists and psychologists who say it is mercurial, just and humane to set up the obnoxious on fit and imbecile," the old doctor declared during a lull in the court proceedings.

"As a physician I have for years been my duty to preserve life. For more than 32 years I cherished that helpless child and perceived my duty as a father to her. Why should I suddenly change my life habit and try to strangle my daughter by putting her out of my way?"

"If I took the life of my daughter I do not remember it. I do not know how I could do such a thing."

And around this point of memory—the asserted temporary insanity of the old fashioned doctor—will revolve the battle of the experts—"behavioristic psychologists" alienists and psychiatrists.

COL. MILLER DENIES CHARGES OF FRAUD IN ALIEN PROPERTY

Probe Of The Custodian's Office To Be Demanded Of Congress.

New York, Nov. 6. — Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, was arraigned before federal judge, Henry W. Goldard today and entered a plea of not guilty to charges of conspiring to defraud the United States government, in connection with the payment of more than $7,000,000 to the Swiss Societe Pour Valeur de Metaux for stock which was seized during the war.

Col. Miller reserved the right to withdraw his plea of not guilty within two weeks.

He was admitted to $5,000 bail, which was furnished.

Col. Miller was entirely self possessed during the hearing and smiled faintly as the charges were read. "I will have my innings in court later," said Miller when asked for a statement.

Probe Is Demanded
Washington, Nov. 6. — A sweeping investigation of the alien property custodian's office and its administration of the $50,000,000 worth of property seized from enemy aliens during the war will be demanded of the new congress, it was learned today.

Declaring the American people were desirous of an accounting of the half billion dollar "trust-ships," Senator William H. King (D., Cal.) announced he would sponsor a resolution calling for the inquiry. Because of the recent activity of the department of justice which resulted in the indictment of Col. Thomas W. Miller, former custodian, King said he expected no opposition to passage of his resolution.

Aside from this proposed inquiry, further learned a number of bills will be introduced in the new congress providing for immediate return of all enemy property still held by the alien property custodian, with an accounting of the American stewardship. Bills with these provisions incorporated, will be sponsored by Senator William E. Borah (R.) of Idaho, and Senator King, among others.

Mary Landon Baker Denies She Will Wed

London, Nov. 6. — Mary Landon Baker, the shy bride, has not overcome her shyness of marriage and she is not going to marry Capt. Peto, according to her own statement.

"Perfectly ridiculous," said Miss Baker commenting upon a newspaper report that she would marry the English captain.

"I met the Capt. Peto, but I am not going to marry him and I have not the slightest idea where he is now," said Miss Baker, ending the interview in that abrupt fashion which she has for ending interviews.

SPINSTERS HOLD GIRLS PRISONERS IN THEIR HOUSE

Fear Of Modern "Charleston" Craze Or Just "Bromide Complex" Responsible, Is Belief.

Cleveland, Nov. 6.—Juvenile authorities today researched to determine whether fear of the modern "Charleston" craze age or just downright "bromide complex" was the reason for two Cleveland spinsters keeping for two Cleveland spinsters keeping for two young girls 14 and 17, prisoners in their home.

The girls, Edna and Gladys Jarvis, were taken under the wing of Florence Delaney, probation officer, after the Women's Protective association had filed an affidavit charging the girls were virtual prisoners and that they were kept rigidly to the most of rigid discipline by the two women, one of which is believed to be a sister to the girls' father.

Some of the jail-like regulations in the "quarantine home," according to the affidavit based on testimony of the two girls, follows:

The girls were forced to remain in bed for long periods as punishment for minor infractions.

The girls' mother, who is remarried, was not permitted to see the girls.

The only reading matter allowed them, was the Bible, simple religious pamphlets and stories dealing with religion.

Companionship of schoolmates, was denied.

Ten minutes was allowed the girls to get to and from school.

The oldest girl, since she finished grade school work, has been held a virtual prisoner in the home of the two spinsters, it was said.

MAGEE IS WANTED AS CITY MANAGER FOR CINCINNATI

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—Mayor William A. Magee, who reports from Cincinnati, may be asked to become city manager of the Queen City, expressed surprise today over the fact that he has been "boasted for the job."

"I haven't heard anything about it," the mayor said, "and I can't very well accept or decline a thing that hasn't been offered me. Anyway, I have planned to practice law in Pittsburg."

"Does that mean that if you are offered the place you will refuse it?" he was asked.

"No, it doesn't mean that," he answered, "it means simply that I do not know what I would do."

Funeral Libations Ruin Splendors Of King Tut's Coffin

Cairo, Nov. 6.—Funeral libations may have ruined much of the splendor with which Tutankhamen was buried, it was learned today.

A thick glutinous like substance covers much of the coffin of Tutankhamen, it is stated, and it is believed that this has been caused by the libations poured upon the coffin at the funeral ceremonies.

Great care is being taken in an effort to remove this thick substance and restore the original coffin.

BLAMES BOARD FOR CONDITIONS IN PEN

Welfare Director Declares State Should Purchase Brick Plant.

Columbus, Nov. 6.—Blame in part at least for the alleged deplorable health conditions at the penitentiary here was placed today upon members of the state board of control by Welfare Director John E. Harper.

Commenting upon the annual report just submitted by prison physician, C. L. Perry to Warden P. E. Thomas of the penitentiary, in which a rapid increase in the number of tuberculosis patients among the 2,600 penitentiary convicts was attributed to inadequate housing, facilities, Harper asserted that this situation would be materially improved if the control board would comply with the request for approval of the legislative appropriation of $35,000 for purchase of the Roseville brick plant to be operated by prison labor. Majority members of the board of control authorized expenditure of $28,000 for the plant. Harper insists the board has no legal right to do other than approve the entire $35,000 appropriation or reject it in its entirety. Owners of the plant have refused to sell at $28,000, it was stated.

Harper said he would transfer about 300 prisoners from the penitentiary to the Roseville plant if the state purchases it.

GERALD CHAPMAN IS SENTENCED TO HANG FOR MURDER

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 6.—"No more than I expected."

Gerald Chapman, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of James Skelly, New Britain policeman, made only that remark when Warden Scott of the state prison here, notified him that the supreme court of errors had denied his appeal for a new trial.

Chapman then turned away from the warden and sat on the edge of his cot to resume reading a book.

So Warden Scott described his interview with Chapman, who had only his guards with him when the warden entered. Besides his guards, Chapman sees only Rev. M. P. Barry, Roman Catholic chaplain of the prison, and on rare occasions, his counsel.

FLAMES DAMAGE SCHOOL, CHURCH. THREATEN TOWN

St. Regis Falls, N. Y., Nov. 6.—This northern New York village was threatened with destruction by fire last night and early today when flames, breaking out in the St. Regis Falls High school, spread to the First M. E. church and parsonage and endangered two main street blocks.

The blaze is attributed to a defective chimney. The loss is estimated at more than $75,000. With the village fire pump out of commission, only a heavy downpour of rain saved the entire village from possible destruction.

Hair Shine

A new-type shampoo gave it to me

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My fame as a beauty and a beauty adviser brings me the best new discoveries. This is to tell you of one.

About a year ago some famous chemist sent me a new shampoo. They said, "We have spent many years in hair study. We have made at least 250 kinds of shampoo, each seeking to better all others. Here is our final creation. It contains many ingredients. They are designed to clean and to help the hair in the best ways known today. Two of them give glint to the hair. One or two trials will prove this to be the greatest shampoo of the day."

I tried that shampoo. It brought me results I could scarcely believe. Then I had the makers supply it to a thousand women. As a result, there came to me an overwhelming demand for more.

Now I am convinced that every woman would delight in this shampoo. It has multiplied the beauty of my hair. It has done, and is doing what I never dreamed a shampoo ever could do.

I have added this shampoo to my line of beauty helps. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Fruity Shampoo. All toilet counters supply it with my other beauty aids.

But let me first send you a sample. Try it as I did. See how it beautifies the hair. You will wonder, as I do, at what science is now doing for the hair. Send coupon now.

For Trial Bottle

Mail this today to Edna Wallace Hopper, 200 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago. Enclose for postage and packing on a sample of Fruity Shampoo.

A Grouch Not Wanted

There is nothing so harmful to success as being a grouch. Stomach, liver and intestinal troubles make one grouchy. May's Wonderful Remedy will help overcome these and usually gives complete results.

Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. At all druggists.

7 Poultry Pointers Listed In Bulletin

Seven points for Ohio poultrymen drawn from the experience of 440 Ohio farmers who kept records on their flocks in 1924 in cooperation with the Ohio State University, are presented in the summary of a new state college bulletin, now ready for free distribution. The title of the 16-page bulletin is, "What Poultry Demonstration Farm Records in Ohio Show."

1. The greater the egg production per hen the greater the labor income, cash receipts, and cash returns above feed.

2. The greater the egg production per hen the greater the total expense, feed cost, and investment, but the lower the feed cost per dozen eggs.

3. High-producing flocks have slightly lower mortality than low-producing flocks.

4. Egg income constitutes 82.4 percent of the total cash income in the light breeds and 68.8 percent in the heavy breeds.

5. The meat income constitutes 16.1 percent of the total cash income in the light breeds and 29.5 percent in the heavy breeds.

6. Mortality seems to parallel egg production, being lower in the fall and winter months and higher in the spring.

7. Average egg production for the 40 demonstration farm flocks was 138.2 per hen. This is double the state average of 70 eggs, but not up to the 160-egg standard set by the poultry department. The demonstration flock kept up to the 160-egg standard in only two months, October and November.

"Touchdown for Touchdown" Demands Harvard

Harvard, still smarting under the 31 to 0 defeat at the hands of Princeton last year, wants revenge—34 points of it—when the teams meet at Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7. Photo above is a glimpse of last year's massacre. Slagle of Princeton has just tossed a forward pass to Le Gendre, who is scoring a touchdown on the play. Inset are the Harvard captain and one of Princeton's stars.

Dempsey Cancels Bout To Straighten Out His Affairs, He Announces

Contradictory Reports Regarding Proposed Title Battle With Wills Cause Jack To Hurry Back To Los Angeles

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 6.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, is speeding to Los Angeles after cutting short his Mexican trip.

Contradictory reports given out by his former aides regarding the proposed title battle with Harry Wills caused Dempsey to cancel a bout at Tampico and rush home to straighten out his affairs.

"I don't know what all this talk is about, but you can say for me that I am going through with the Wills fight. As soon as I reach home I am going to get in touch with Floyd Fitzsimmons and I feel sure that everything will go through just as proposed."

"Pain bunk," Jack smiled when asked about the oft-rumored reconciliation with Jack Kearns. "I'm Jack Dempsey's manager, despite the fact that everybody else seems to know more about my business than I do."

Won't Fight in New York

"Positively, I'm not going to fight in New York," he added. The only reports to rely upon are those coming from Ray Cannon and Andrew Weisberg, head of the South Bend syndicate, Dempsey declared.

Regarding the resignation of Rob Roy Benton, the champion said the press agent had not been employed by him for the past three weeks. "All the broadcasting is coming out of New York, where they are sore on me and are trying to knock the bout," he continued, "and I will not fight in New York."

Dempsey appeared to be in good condition after his Mexican tour.

Reconciliation Rumors

New York, Nov. 6.—Reports of a business reconciliation between Dempsey and Kearns are freely aired in this man's town today as an aftermath of the alleged disclosures of Rob Roy Benton, resigning megaphone man for the Dempsey troupe. Claiming that the South Bend, Ind., syndicate holding the Dempsey-Wills papers was to be given the run around, Benton said he was getting out from under. As a matter of fact, he was never in.

Local men who claim to know the minds of Dempsey and Kearns declared today that the reconciliation has been under way for some time and that Benton's withdrawal from the official family was the first move in the game.

The next, they say, will be the definite resumption of business relations between Dempsey and Kearns to the mutual benefit of both. It will assure Kearns of his "cut" on the champion's fights, if any, and at the same time Kearns' steady hand is expected to straighten out Dempsey's financial problems, which are several and important. In short it is not their personal but their business friendship that is to be resumed.

Dempsey's Affairs

If Kearns again takes charge, he will find the champion's affairs as orderly as a freshman's dormitory. In the first place, there is the South Bend contract with Wills. If the promoter put their money on the line, as he should, Dempsey will have to go through. But can he?

With Kearns in tow again, he will have to laugh off the latter's contract with Rickard; also a sheet of telegrams to the local promoter, accepting terms, reaffirming his faith and what not. These are as binding on the law can make them.

That was not the only one of Dempsey's numerous mistakes since he took to handling his own affairs. Another was his merry-go-round with the local syndicate which

CUBS AND SNYDERS COMBINE FORCES

Local Team To Tackle The Fast Washingtonville Team Sunday.

The Salem Cubs, owing to various disagreements, have dissolved and Sunday when the Snyder A. C.'s tackle the fast Washingtonville Aces, the entire Cub backfield will be seen with the Snyder's. Several of the Cubs' former linemen also may take part in the game.

Those included in the shift are Sartick, Simonds, Allison and Volpe from the backfield and the Butts, brothers and Gallagher from the line. The Washingtonville combine had defeated both the Snyder's and the Cubs, the Cubs by one point and the Snyder's by a single touchdown. With the opportunity for a last-revenge battle promises to be a brisk affair. The rival outfits are evenly matched although Washingtonville has a slight advantage in weight.

A week from Sunday the locals will play the Brookfield Aces here—an other promising attraction.

SHADES OF LIGHT NOW TREAT ILLS OF MANY KINDS

All Colors Of Spectrum Can Be Used For Different Ills.

London, Nov. 6.—Remarkable possibilities in the treatment of all kind of illness by the use of different shades of light were outlined by Lord Clifford of Chudeleigh, who for many years has been studying the action of colored light upon the growth of vegetation, in an interview here.

According to his lordship, all the colors of the spectrum may be utilized for different complaints, and in fact doctors may describe their patients by their color rather than by their symptoms.

"One shade of red is the most effective in all cases of blood poisoning," said his lordship. "Ultraviolet produces a fermentation in the body which reduces hardness of tissue and also builds up tissues."

Violet Aids Bone

"A particular shade of violet causes the growth of bone; an indigo produces hydro carbonates and body tissues; a shade of blue produces muscular generation and strength; a shade of green increases the vitality and general energy of the system and also the growth of fat; yellow restores the nerves."

"It is as well to remember, however, that the greatest care must be taken that only the right shade of each color is used, or opposite results may be obtained."

"The treatment would also benefit most people suffering from premature old age and mental worry produced by past illnesses."

"I do not claim that this light treatment can make people of 60 feel like 35," warned his lordship, "but it certainly can restore them to the state of activity and fitness they enjoyed a dozen years before."

"I also have strong hopes that the use of light will eventually lead to a cure for consumption."

Lord Clifford has had an adventurous career, during which he has farmed in New Zealand and Tasmania where he owns about eight thousand acres of land.

TACK FAMILY HAS LOST TWO MEMBERS

One Used In Carpets And One For Stamps Pass On Their Way.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Two great members of the Tack family have been cast into the call heap. It was disclosed here at the first national tack simplification conference held at the department of commerce.

The well known carpet tack is no longer an important article of commerce. The once important tack used to hold revenue stamps on barrels containing an intoxicating elixir of life and death is absolutely passe.

When the conference presented the situation in the industry to Secretary of Commerce Hoover, it was found that there were 45 sizes and varieties of tacks on the market.

Number Is Cut
On the final day of the conference manufacturers signed a treaty to cut this number to 185. Later the number may be reduced still farther. Several big producers have experts working on specifications for a general utility tack that will serve most of the purposes of the half-thousand varieties of yesterday.

The tack-treaty is one more step in the standardization and simplification of all major industries in which Secretary Hoover hopes to cut down the American cost of living.

Living costs, Hoover believes, can be reduced by the elimination of the enormous waste in distribution and industry in spite of the fact that American living standards have improved a thousand percent since the Civil war.

Living, it was explained, naturally costs more now than yesterday because of the new requirements of the nation for comforts that once were luxuries—the automobile, the radio, better housing, service—all these contribute to a more costly existence, but these more expensive methods will be mitigated to a great extent if the country can cast aside its wasteful practices and reach a maximum productive capacity.

At the tack conference only three sizes of carpet tacks were retained. The passing of this old friend is attributed to the demise of carpets. Hardwood floors, only partially covered by rugs spelled the carpet tack's doom.

New One Developed
One new tack has been developed by the requirements of the automotive industry, now one of the biggest tack users in the nation.

Reports showed that the tack has expanded beyond a product of the hardware industry. Tacks are now distributed by groceries, chain stores and drug stores.

Although not specifically mentioned, it was understood that a pin simplification conference would be one of the next attempts by the government.

"Certainly a move to the simplification."

State College Tries Instruction By Air

Ohio's state college of agriculture is taking to the air regularly this month for the first time since station WPAO began broadcasting at the Ohio State University.

Three departments—soils, poultry husbandry, and rural economics—have agreed to provide a series of 6-minute talks for most of the winter months. There will be three talks a week, one from each department, at least through February.

Firman E. Bear, of the soils department, will broadcast a series of a dozen 10-minute talks beginning Tuesday, Nov. 16, and continuing on Tuesday and Thursday evenings until Dec. 22.

On Jan. 5 the poultry specialists will take the air for a series of 16 talks on Tuesdays and Thursdays, ending Feb. 25. Speakers will be Prof. E. L. Dakan, head of the poultry department, G. S. Vickers, poultry extension specialist, and T. S. Towns.

These talks, interpreting current economic conditions of interest to the farmer, come at 1:15 Monday afternoons, immediately following the market reports. Evening Wraps That Are New

Colleen Moore Boasts a Smart Moire Evening Cape Which Is Trimmed With Ostrich Feathers

Many of the newest evening wraps are more of a cape in line than a wrap—or if fashioned along coat lines possess a distinctly flared hem as well as a flared sleeve.

Colleen Moore, who is smartly outfitted in her newest First National picture, "We Moderns," wears a chic little outfit for formal occasions in one of the scenes from this film. Miss Moore has selected an appealing frock of youthful lines of tulle, quaintly flared, and wears over it a wrap which is of cape lines and smartness.

Moire, which shares its favor with brocade materials, is the fabric used, and in its lovely shade of deep blue it is particularly enchanting. A broad fold of crepe satin is used to outline the circular hem, while knotted ostrich feathers in matching shade form an effective trimming at collar and outline the front of the cape.

The evening wrap is a thing of gorgeous beauty this season. In material and in design it is smartly colorful and sumptuously cut. Rich brocades, tinsel and velvet, cut chiffon, metallic golds and silvers vie in beauty and colorful appeal.

Furs of known and unknown pelts are used in adding richness to the wraps and frequently border, collar and cuff the wraps in very deep lengths. The fur border, on many models, leaves its bottom flare to decorate places higher up and outlines the front of the wrap in rich pelts.

The wrap, in general, follows the tendency towards a flare, and the rich materials frequently flare into enchanting godets and also feature a jabot effect from the broad furred collar.

The lining of the wrap tells another tale of chic and frequently matches the outer materials in gorgeousness and colorful appeal. When the material chosen for the wrap is of a solid tone in crepe or velvet, the lining is frequently brocade in rich tones, with tinsel threads lending beauty. When the outer material is of gold brocade, or cut velvet in gorgeous tints, the lining is of solid tones and frequently of startling brilliance. Tangerine, jade, royal blue and scarlets being selected for the cloth of gold or silver brocades.

Newspapers Effect Changes On Farms

Newspapers, as much as any other agency, have been responsible for more than half of the improved practices adopted by farmers in the past few years.

Backing for this statement comes to the Ohio State university from Dr. C. B. Smith, chief of the office of cooperative extension work in the Federal Department of Agriculture. Dr. Smith bases his statement on surveys made in several states.

In making these surveys men traveled either on foot or by auto along the highways, going from 200 to 1000 miles to cross the states involved, making inquiry of every farmer on each side of the road, and checking a list of those who subscribed to papers.

Back in 1912 the survey showed that 66 per cent of the farmers were taking a farm paper. By 1919 this figure stood at 75 per cent. And 79 per cent of the farmers, it was discovered in the 1919 survey, were taking a daily paper.

In 1922 and 1924 surveys in four states showed that 63 per cent of the improved farming or home practices adopted by farmers or their wives traced back directly to various publicity mediums, with the newspapers, daily and weekly, in the majority.

The newspapers and farm papers did this by publishing the findings of successful farmers, of the state experiment stations, the agricultural colleges, the county extension agents and the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Rich Man's Dietary Might Include Pork

Pork, instead of beef, is now bidding for first place in the rich man's diet.

Study of retail prices of meat at the present time shows the scale of meat values nearly upside down, rural economists at the Ohio State university have found.

"Pork prices since a year show the influence of advancing hog prices," R. P. Taber, one of the economists points out. "Hog is now about 20 per cent higher at retail than it was a year ago, and bacon is about 10 per cent higher."

"Retail prices of bacon have and pork chops are now practically double the prices which ruled in pre-war times. Lard, alone of the principal pork products, is only about 50 per cent higher than the pre-war normal."

The unusual thing, says Mr. Taber, is that beef at retail is considerably cheaper than pork. The better cuts of beef are but little above their prices of a year ago. They stand at about 60 per cent above the pre-war level, as compared with pork prices standing 100 per cent above the pre-war level.

"The influence of the full pay envelope is seen however," the economist explains, "in the relation between the prices of the better cuts of beef and the low grade cuts. Chuck roasts are now selling for 37 per cent above the pre-war level, while plate beef is but 15 per cent above pre-war. Sirloin steak, however, stands at 64 per cent above the pre-war level."

SPECIAL SCHOOL LEVIES CARRY IN EVERY DISTRICT

Special school levy for three mills over a period of five years carried in all school districts where the levy was voted upon Tuesday last with the exception of Unity school district No. 3, where the issue lost, according to the official announcement of the deputy state board of supervisors of elections.

In Wayne township, and Yellow Creek township the three-mill levy was approved for a period of two years only.

The three-mill levy carried in Columbiana, East Liverpool, East Palestine, Hanover township, Lisbon village, Monroeville, Unity No. 1, Washingtonville.

In Leetonia village a bond issue for $85,000 for sewer construction purposes carried. Of this amount, $25,000 is to be charged against the village and $60,000 will be assessed against property owners according to benefits.

An issue of $20,000 street improvement bonds was approved by the electors of New Waterford village and Wellsville electors approved a levy of one-half mill for 1925 and 1926 for lighting the city and for unpaid bills.

In addition to the electors approving these special levies, the $950,000 road bond issue was also approved on a county-wide vote.

An official record of the approval of these issues has been filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton by the board of elections.

RED CROSS YEAR A RELIEF RECORD

Huge Relief Work After Midwest Tornado the Greatest in American Annals.

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 90 disasters in which it served in the past year.

This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 796 people, injuring 2,239 more,
and causing inestimable property loss.
It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem.
The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and helping every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.

The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of its huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 736 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 152 catastrophes.

The story of the Red Cross service to the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires heading the list of destructive forces with 29 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.

The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization on the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it,
to his former status once more.

The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy airship "Shenandoah" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 3,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergencies.

There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 34 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,047,256.49, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specified disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,019,751.23.

The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,000, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,645,000. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.

In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and hopefulness shown by the people. Once they were freed from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild materially and otherwise, and on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief before help could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.

The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1926.

What Becomes of Red Cross Sweaters
What becomes of the sweaters which the American Red Cross has asked for? In the first place, they are needed for the 30,000 disabled veterans still in hospitals this winter, the surplus being in great demand. The surplus left from the war has been exhausted since the Armistice, hence the new call for the sweater-knitters to resume their needles, a call already being met.

The American Red Cross serves in your name; you can make it more effective by adding your name to its membership during the Roll Call Nov. 11-26.

LOVE GREATEST AT 18, JUDGE AND PASTOR ASSERTS

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Love at 18 is the greatest love. Pass it up and weep, you sophisticated maids and bachelors.

Judge Joseph H. Sabath says so and is supported by Rev. John Thompson, prominent Chicago minister. That for the men!

But young ladies—you also should take advantage of the fiery passions of youth. Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, president of the Chicago Federation of Women's Organizations, says that,
and is dilted by Representative Mrs.
Rena Bailey, of the 25th Illinois senatorial district.

"In the springtime young man's fancy lightly turns to love"—and that is as it should be. For Judge Sabath himself was a benedict at 18 and has had more personal contact with domestic troubles in court than many judges. "Love is best in the springtime and youthful romance has the best chance to succeed," says his honor. "A young man needs something to tie to."

"Parents that interfere in youthful love affairs are liable to make a dreadful mistake and wreck young lives," according to Rev. Thompson.

POSTAL RECEIPTS STILL ON UPGRADE

Washington, Nov. 6.—Postal receipts, regarded as a barometer of business conditions, continue on the upgrade, totaling $32,489,942 in 50 selected cities during October as compared with $29,118,862 in October, 1924, an increase of $3,370,179, or 11.57 per cent, the Postoffice department announced today.

Jacksonville Fla., led in percentage of increase, its receipts for October amounting to $110,305, as compared with $2,876, an increase of 33.10 per cent.

Akron, O., was second with receipts of $146,553, as compared with $112,958 in October last year an increase of 31.05 per cent, while Baltimore was third with receipts totaling $606,222 and $489,642, respectively, an increase of 23.81 per cent.

Points of Interest in the Fall Mode

Smart Effects Are Achieved by Norma Talmadge, Who Adds the New Notes of Paris Importance to the Wardrobe

There are many points of importance to the fall mode. First, of course, is the definite note that by its flare shall the new frock be known. There are flares and flares. There is the circular flare which comes at the bottom of the gown of princess tendencies; then there is the front flare which is achieved by a concentrated fullness by means of a circular godet that falls from a deep yoke—which is very new. There is also a front flare achieved by a pulled-up-in-front effect at the waist, and the front fullness secured by an apron front. Side panels are points of interest in obtaining a flare, too.

The back, also, concentrates upon achieving smartness in ways new and old. The back of flat, unornamented line, has been succeeded by a back which calls upon capes, raised waistlines, new flaring lines, circular insets and plaits, and, in the more advanced models, a distinct tendency to introduce the bustle of generations ago.

The silhouette, as a whole, boasts a greater fullness. Pleats, tiers, gathers and flounces all concentrate on a graceful, rippling line. Complications in cut create a simplicity of outline which is both new and charming.

The waistline which has been of little importance in the past is creating a stir by making itself keenly felt in lines decidedly new. The newest thing in waistlines is that which is higher in front, with a downward line used at the back. The waistline, however, is movable and is graciously permitting its placing where its lines are most needed.

Lines about the neck are very new. The square, round, and V necks are all to be found, but with new variations. The scarf effect is used where chic is demanded, and the sloping neck is both new and smart. Collars, with variations to their outlines are very new, while gold kid often forms a smart accessory in the way of new collars on a tailored frock.

Uneven hemlines are very new and are a distinct part of the fall mode—especially where a formal effect is used.

Velvets, which are to be used so much this fall and winter, are to be found in the newest shades. And a hint has been given that the very high tones which are worn in early fall will be blended with those of more obscure tints.

The robe de style, so fitted to the debutante, will be an important item in the new wardrobe, and will share favor with the fluttering dance frock with its darts, or the brilliant studded gown of untraced hem line.

Sleeves, which are generally long, are puffed at the wrist, or are severely plain, or possess cuffs of intricate charm. But in general the tendency is towards a sleeve that is well to the wrist for daytime smartness.

Gloves which are new are very loose fitting and frequently are without cuffs and suggest a tailored mode. Others have added the flare of the frock and possess cuffs cunningly shaped and trimmed.

Hats have become larger, for formal occasions, but the small hat is still with us with a turned up brim somewhere in front or in back.

Norma Talmadge, who returned from Europe to work on her first National picture, "Graustark," brought with her a wardrobe that was very new and very gay with touches of Paris in it.

Here is a new fruit salad dressing for your files. Make up the fruit salad in the regular manner, either entirely from fresh fruits, or a combination with canned fruits. Take a quarter pound of cream cheese and add the fruit salad juice to it till the cheese has the consistency of a light paste, or slightly thicker than heavy cream, and whip in the same manner as cream. Where the fruit juices are very sweet it is advisable to use a few drops of lemon juice. Apply the dressing to the salad in any manner that may suggest itself.

Pineapple, either fresh or canned, is both food and medicine. The juice contains an element that helps digest meat fiber and also furnishes mineral salts for the regulation of the body.

In these days of colorful embroideries it is often difficult to match colors or to find a new shade desired; but if one will, if using two strands, take one of lighter and one of a darker shade than that desired, the two threads will blend in the stitches so well that they cannot be detected. This helps, too, when one lacks just a little in finishing a piece of work for you can use odds and ends of other shades.

LATEST IN STYLE FOR WOMEN
Paris, Nov. 5.—Velvet will be the mid-winter mode, according to the Parisian fashion masters.

Both for afternoon and evening wear, this style will be much in demand, with metal tissues a close second.

The velvet tones are rich, with much embroidery and floral work, especially in the evening mode, while coats are abundantly trimmed with wide bands of fur, or fur-lined with patterned pelts of mink, taupe or caracul.

Gold lace is being widely used with metal cloth, but other bright colors are popular and usually two are employed for an ensemble such as dark blue and scarlet.

Coats generally are fitted above the hips and flare below, uniting with dresses of crepe or single wool embroidered or trimmed with bands, the color of the coat, which is sometimes

Add eggs well beaten, then milk. Heat frying pan, grease sides and bottom well with butter, turn in mixture and cook 20 minutes in hot oven.

Thousand Island Dressing—Mix plain boiled dressing with a little chili sauce for Thousand Island dressing. This is simple and inexpensive.

Butterscotch Cookies—One-half cup butter, two cups brown sugar, two eggs, half teaspoon vanilla, half teaspoon cream of tartar, one teaspoon soda, three and one-half cups flour. Mix in the order given. Pack in hard loaf and let stand over night. In the morning cut in thin slices and bake in a hot oven.

Pale, Tired Mothers Should Beware of Chronic Fatigue

Many a discouraged mother thinks that her thin, pale, tired-out condition is due to exhausting housework and care of children—when as a matter of fact the real cause of all her distressing ailments is chronic fatigue.

Don't confuse chronic fatigue with the ordinary fatigue you feel after a good long walk. Chronic fatigue comes from within. Your organs and muscles have become debilitated due to lack of sufficient organic iron in your blood. To conquer chronic fatigue you must strengthen your system by restoring this organic iron to your blood. But don't take the older mineral iron medicines which many doctors now say do little good. Take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like that in spinach and lentils. Unlike ordinary mineral iron it will not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach, but is promptly assimilated.

Take Nuxated Iron for just two weeks and you'll be astonished how much stronger and better you feel. Money back if not improved. All good druggists.

EFFORT TO REPEAL TAX PUBLICITY IS DOOMED TO DEFEAT

House May Be Favorable To Repeal, But Senators
Have Final Word.

WON'T JEOPARDIZE
REDUCTION PLANS

Administration To Temper Publicity Fight To Hasten Reduction.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The publicity feature of the income tax law, although subjected to attacks from business interests all over the country and condemned by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, is here to stay so far as the United States senate is concerned, it was revealed today by a poll of leaders.

The consensus of senatorial opinion showed that Secretary Mellon's recommendation for repeal of the publicity clause will fall upon deaf ears in the senate even though his suggestion gets a favorable reception in the house. As history reveals the senate has spoken the final word on tax legislation since time immemorial, administration leaders admitted they face a forlorn hope of repealing the clause.

The desire of the administration to hurry the enactment of tax reduction legislation, along the necessary administrative reforms, it was said, will prevent any long drawn out fight over the publicity provision.

Attempt To Repeal
An attempt will be made to repeal it but if the senate opposing remains obdurate—as indicated by today's poll

—the effort will be dropped until some more favorable opportunity. For the administration does not intend to jeopardize or delay enactment of a tax reduction bill, even though it continues the existing publicity law.

The house ways and means committee meanwhile continued its work of drafting the new tax bill today. It was agreed that the sub-committees would draft the various schedules for submission to the full committee, before the rates are written into a potential bill.

The fixing of actual rates, it was said, has been delayed pending receipt from Secretary Mellon of statistics showing how the treasury estimated a $200,000,000 surplus for 1927. This was asked because Democratic members of the committee demanded a greater reduction than the treasury recommended and challenged Mellon's figure for the 1927 estimated surplus.

The house committee meanwhile will postpone action on the publicity clause until the last. Whatever its final action and regardless of the house's action, any move to repeal the statute will meet with deadly opposition in the senate. This much was admitted even by administration leaders.

PARAMOUNT PRODUCTIONS
A production boom that threatens to rival the big picture making schedule completed early this summer is well under way at the Paramount Hollywood studio.
Seven producing units, each busily engaged in making a feature length picture, are now working at the studio or on location. In addition to these, three other companies are busy in preparation and will be "shooting" within the next few weeks.
"A Woman of the World" is the title of Pola Negri's next starring vehicle on which she is working under the direction of Malcolm St. Clair. Supporting Miss Negri are Charles Emmett Mack, Holmes Herbert, Blanche Mahaffey and Chester Conklin.
The Mojave Desert, California, has claimed Raymond Griffith and his large company under the direction of Clarence Badger for the early scenes of "Hands Up," his current picture.
"The Sign of the Cross" is well under way with the production of his original story, "The Splendid Crime" which features Bebe Daniels, Neil Hamilton, Anne Cornwall and Anthony J. Witt.
Preparation for the war sequences of "Behind the Front" are going rapidly while Victor Fleming films interior scenes with a cast featuring Mary Brian, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hutton.

How to stop BOILS!

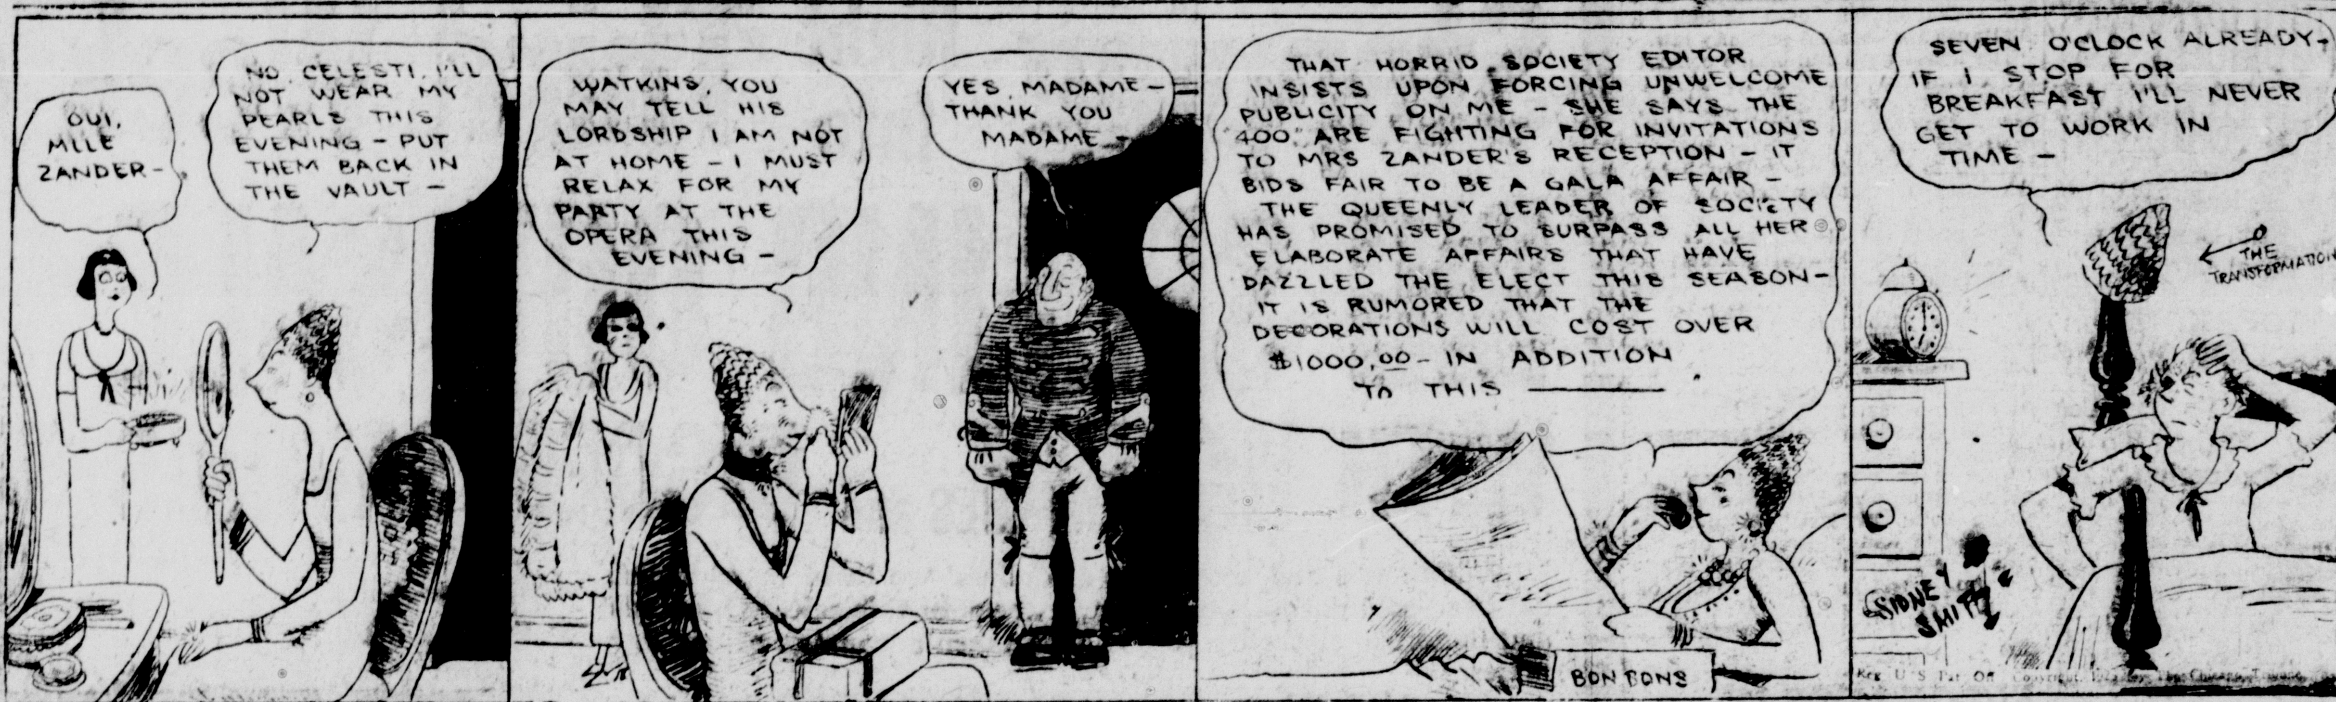

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils! That's common sense—isn't it? All right. Boils thrive because the blood gets so weak in healthy, red cells that it can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's not enough rich, red blood to purify the system.
Now—S. S. S. builds back the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions! Boils dry up!
S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it.
Stop boils with S. S. S. It's the way. Get it at any drugstore. The larger bottle is more economical.

Scenes for "Mannequin," Fannie Hurst's $50,000 prize magazine story, are being rapidly put onto film by James Cruze with a featured cast headed by Alice Joyce, Warner Baxter, ZaSu Pitts, Dolores Costello and Walter Pidgeon.
Bagdad has been reconstructed for "The Golden Journey," Raoul Walsh's production for Paramount which features Ernest Torrence, William Collier, Jr., Greta Nissen and Louise Fazenda.
"The Enchanted Hill," one of Peter B. Kyne's best sellers is keeping the Irvin Willat company busy both in and out of the studio as it is a Western picture with a modern trend. Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, Noah Beery, Mary Brian and Richard Arlen are featured.
The productions under preparation for filming in the next few weeks are "Miss Brewster's Millions," starring Bebe Daniels under the direction of Edward Sutherland, and "Sea Horses," which Alan Dawn will come to the West Coast to produce.

NORMA IN "KIKI"
David Belasco, dean of theatrical impresarios, has wired congratulations to Joseph M. Schenck on his decision to produce "Kiki" as the next Norma Talmadge starring vehicle for First National. Belasco's wire follows: "Heartiest congratulations on your decision to produce 'Kiki' for Norma Talmadge. No other actress on the cinema today could play this character with the artistry and faithfulness of interpretation that I know Norma will put into the role. Best greetings."
"Kiki," with Lenore Ulric in the starring role, was a Belasco stage sensation for several seasons and is still creating a tremendous success as a road show. Believing that the role was too important to intrust to most screen actresses, Belasco steadfastly refused to sell the motion picture rights until six months ago when he was assured by Mr. Schenck that Norma Talmadge would create "Kiki" on the screen.
With this understanding an arrangement was completed whereby Mr. Schenck obtained the motion picture rights at a new high figure.
Recently he announced that he believed the time was now right to launch the production and plans are already under way for filming to begin.

JESS CARSON TO BEGIN LIFE ANEW IN THE TROPICS
Rochester, Minn., Nov. 6.—Jess Carson, who sprang into the limelight by contriving the escape of Clara Phillips, hammer murderess, only to fall ignominiously and see her returned to a Los Angeles jail, plans to begin life anew in the Tropics.
Carson, after an operation for ulcers of the stomach, will be released from the hospital Monday. He says he is going to Vera Cruz, to work his Mexican gold mine.
The operation was made necessary because of ground glass fed him during his tribulations in the Latin country with Clara Phillips, he declares. His wife will accompany him on his trip.
Carson, who tells his story with movie-like gestures, declares he has $50,000 buried in the mountains of Honduras, which he left when his plans for a revolution which would bring immunity for Clara Phillips failed, and he is ready to take a chance to get it, if the chance isn't too great.

Boston—Many authorities believe that within two generations the United States will contain no blondes with the exception of a few immigrants. It is said that the blondes will disappear by intermarriage and also accepting the pastimes of the dark haired races—dancing, gaiety and night life.

Love That Conquered

A Powerful Gripping True Story

FIFTEEN minutes after Jessie had told her landlady that she could not pay her room rent because she had lost her job she was on the sidewalk.

Without money, without friends, her scant belongings held by an irate landlady what could she do?

She was desperate!

All night she wandered from street to street finally to fall fainting upon a bench in the park.

That is where Jules Stockton found her. And when Jessie slowly returned to consciousness she found herself held in strong arms being borne away—she knew not where.

Born of good family, Stockton had run away from home while still a boy. At first a hobo, he later enlisted in the army and was sent to the Philippines.

When he returned he was thoroughly hard—had no fear of God or man—and no respect or reverence for women.

Had Jessie known the kind of man he was she would rather have been left to die than go with him. But because she was desperate for food and warmth, she went.

Thus was the stage set for one of the most dramatic battles between good and evil that was ever fought—steadfast woman opposed to predatory man.

As you read this thrilling story, entitled "Little Things That Count" in True Story Magazine for December, you will realize what a frightful penalty men and women pay for their ignorance of the TRUTH about life.

To instruct, to warn, to inspire, to guide—that is the mission of True Story Magazine.

Other Great Features in December True Story Magazine:

"The Woman In The Case"—Mollie was only a "hello girl"—alone in the world. Yet she possessed her job, good looks, and self-respect. And when, out of a clear sky, there came an offer of $20,000—a sum which meant comfort for life—what do you think Mollie did?

A Great Moral Force

Dear Sirs:

I have been reading the True Story magazine for a long time and I can't keep still any longer. I am a married woman with five children of which one girl and one boy are grown and I find many people who still think they should not know the truth about life as they are to and it.

I have my girl and boy read True Story every month. I feel it a help to them and I feel that it is a help to all young people in pointing out the message that living contrary to the laws of God and Nature means that untold misery will follow.

Respectfully

Dear Sirs:

There are many good lessons for all who read the magazine. Every mother should encourage her daughter to do so. My little girl will read it as soon as she is able to understand its meaning. For I believe young folks should learn the truth before it is too late.

My mother was anxious to get the truth about life so her own daughter. Still there are seven girls and we all came out well because we all read True Story Magazine.

I wish you great success and hope you continue carrying on the good work.

Yours Truly,

Mrs. Mary Muehl,

events that have their beginning in a deathbed promise—in which love, mystery, renunciation and suffering are woven together.

"Neglected Wives"—The astounding revelation

"When Souls Are Tried"—Pathos and joy were strangely interwoven in the dramatic life of Conal! A good girl with a bad name, she was kicked into the streets for an offense that was not hers—to suddenly find herself snatched from the maelstrom of life by a man who seemed to see the Truth beneath her tawdry finery and her tear-stained rouge.

"The Widow in White"—A heart-gripping sequence of a neglected wife that will sound a solemn warning in the heart of every woman and girl, whether she is married or not.
